LOOKBOOK - CATALOG PREVIEW

NEW JUTE COLLECTION

MATERIAL BENEFITS:

01
Biodegradable: Jute is a natural fiber that decomposes easily, making it an environmentally friendly choice. Unlike synthetic fabrics, jute does not contribute to plastic pollution in the environment.

02
Sustainable: Jute is a fast-growing crop that requires minimal water and pesticides for cultivation, making it a sustainable choice for fabric production. It can be harvested within 4-6 months.

03
Renewable Resource: Jute is a renewable resource, and its cultivation helps in improving soil fertility, which can be beneficial for crop rotation. Eco-Friendly: Jute production has a low carbon footprint compared to many synthetic fabrics. The processing of jute also uses less energy and chemicals, further reducing its environmental impact.

04
Reduces Soil Erosion: Jute is commonly used for erosion control and land reclamation due to its ability to reduce soil erosion along riverbanks and in hilly areas.

05
Breathable: Jute fabric is naturally breathable and has good moisture-wicking properties. This makes it comfortable to wear in hot and humid climates.
